Red China Condemns 22 American 'Spies' To Death Or Prison

LONDON (AP) — A Red Chinese military tribunal today sentenced 13 American airmen captured in the Korean War to prison terms ranging from four years to life on espionage charges, Peiping Radio announced.

Four Chinese were reported sentenced to death as "American spies" in the same case and five others received prison terms.

Peiping broadcasts said Col. John Knox Arnold Jr., of Silver Springs,

Center At MSC Gets $490,750 For Expansion

EAST LANSING (AP) — The Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek has given nearly half a million dollars for expansion of the Kellogg Center for Continuing Education at Michigan State College.

The gift, totalling $490,750, was accepted Monday by the State Board of Agriculture, college governing body.

The seven-story center, financed mostly by Kellogg funds, was built in 1951 at a cost of $2,200,000. The additional funds will provide for the expansion of the conference rooms and dining rooms, additional office space and a new service elevator.

Christman Construction Co. of Lansing submitted the low bid of $1,720,547 for construction of 313 new apartment units for married students. The college will have 457 units when the new construction is completed.

A total of $84,918 in grants and gifts to the college were accepted.

Steeplejack Dies In 100-Foot Fall

BALTIMORE (AP) — A 300-pound steeplejack died Monday night eight hours after a rescue line snapped and sent him plunging 100 feet from the top of a weather tower.

Peter Jekubs, 50, hung head downward and helpless for more than an hour after he had slipped on the tower and a rope snarled around one leg, held him fast above the YMCA Anchorage Seaman's Building here.

The crowd which gathered to watch the attempts of firemen to rescue Jekubs moaned and screamed when the steeplejack fell to earth. One woman fainted.

Jekubs died of injuries that included a fractured skull, breaks of both arms, several ribs, bones in the lower body and a deep gash in his head.

A safety belt was buckled around Jekubs' waist by two firemen and a rope fastened from a block-and-tackle to a hook on the safety belt. When a third fireman cut the hal-yard holding Jekubs the steeplejack started to fall. His body twisted as it reached the end of the slack on the safety rope.

The combination of his weight and the twist pulled the belt hook out and Jekubs kept on falling, plowing down the areaway in the middle of the building to the ground.

The Americans were captured in two American aircraft shot down the broadcast said. Downey and Fecteau were captured Nov. 29, 1952, while dropping supplies to American espionage agents in "northeast China." The Chinese charged, and the others were in a B-29 commanded by Arnold which was reported downed Jan. 12, 1953.

They were sentenced by the military Tribunal of the Supreme People's Court, the Peiping Radio said.

The other group, Peiping Radio said, included John Thomas Downey (alias Jack Donavan), 24, of Connecticut and Richard George Fecteau, 27, of Massachusetts. It described both as "special agents of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Details of the sentences and the location of the court were not given in the broadcast, which was monitored in London.

Chances Slim To Get Jobs In Detroit, Mayor Cobo Warns

DETROIT (AP) — Mayor Albert Cobo's office warned today that persons coming to Detroit in search of jobs "stand practically no chance of being employed in the foreseeable future."

"The existing unemployment list will meet all labor demands in Detroit," a statement said, which also pointed out that welfare regulations prohibit granting of relief to anyone who has lived in Detroit less than a year.

The mayor's statement said he had been advised that jobless workers from other areas have been coming to Detroit because of widespread publicity being given new car production and production estimates for 1955.

Bump Proves Fatal

OTSEGO (AP) — Clarence F. Goldwood, 68, of Plainwell, was killed by his own car Monday night after a collision on M89 three miles east of Otsego. Police said Goldwood was looking at damage on his car, hit from behind by another auto, when a car coming in the opposite direction hit Goldwood's car. It struck him, injuring him fatally.

None of McCarthy's aides or close friends in the Senate professed to know what motivated the request to NBC for free air time, made Monday by Mrs. McCarthy.

Pharaoh Burial Boat Dug Up In Shadow Of Egypt's Pyramid

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Workmen whose ancestors sweated to build the pyramids today lifted a 20-ton limestone slab which had sealed off a wooden boat buried at one of those royal tombs about 5,000 years ago.

A crowd of diplomats, scholars, officials and newsmen crowded forward for a glimpse of the prow of the funeral vessel or solar boat of the Pharaoh Cheops, resting in a narrow chamber in the shadow of the great pyramid.

Many of the spectators said they could scent a faint aroma arising from the cedar woodwork, originally brought from Mt. Lebanon.

Kamal El Mallakh, the Egyptian archaeologist who discovered the chamber last spring, said the boat is longer than was previously believed. The length of the chamber indicated the boat would be 110 feet long, but if the detached prow was replaced the boat would be about 120 feet long.

For Trip To Heaven

Shaped from wood to form a stylized flower, the prow had been detached. It lay on the deck along with a perfectly preserved 300-foot coiled rope, planks and pieces of rotting linen.

Zaki Nour, chief inspector of the Giza area, explained that the ancient Egyptians believed eternal life to be in the sky and the pharaohs frequently chose boats as the best means of transport to immortal life.

"Our Nile was one of the world's first great highways and it is natural the pharaohs should have preferred to travel by boat," Nour said.

Teenage Boy Sitters Deny Killing Baby

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Two teenage boy sitters pleaded innocent Monday to charges of murdering an 18-month-old baby.

Kenneth James Brewer, 16, and his half brother Benjamin West McGrew, 16, were ordered held without bond. The boys are accused of beating Thomas Harris to death because he couldn't stand up and walk.

Harris, former State Department official convicted of perjury in connection with answers he gave before a congressional committee on Communist activities, served 3½ years of a five-year sentence. He was given time off for "meritorious good time."

Student Play Scores Success

The Escanaba High School Dramatics and Thespian Club scored a big hit last night in the opening performance of the well-known Thornton Wilder production, "Our Town." The play will be presented again this evening at 8 at the Junior High School auditorium.

A fine job of casting, big and small roles, made this rare and charming picture of life in any American town, of any human, from the cradle to the grave, come alive on the bare stage. As the stage manager in the drama says: "This is the way we were in our growing-up and in our marrying and in our doctoring and in our living and in our dying."

John LeMire had the principal role of the stage manager, the kind of person you would expect to meet in a small town general store, sitting on a rocker and reliving the past. He opens the production with a little general history of the town, Grover's Corners, N. H., and its residents and gives the general layout of the town, which is necessary, due to the lack of scenery.

Dialogue And Pantomime

The young actors and actresses, with the aid of a few props and clever handling of sound effects, did a magnificent job of conveying their story by dialogue and pantomime.

Two families, the Gibbs and the Webs, were the chief characters in the production. Members of the Gibbs family were Keith Moin as Dr. Gibbs, Sylvia Simonson as Mrs. Gibbs, Greg Anspaugh as George Gibbs and Sandra Williams as Rebecca Gibbs. The Webb family consisted of Con Prokos as Mr. Webb, town's newspaper editor, Sara Dunathan as Mrs. Webb, Sharon Greis as Emily Webb and Bob Haddock as Wally Webb. These roles of these two families did a fine job with humor, picturesqueness and sorrow. Sharon Greis was particularly moving in the scene enacted at the cemetery.

Bruce Farrell in the role of Howie Newcome, the milkman, derived many laughs from the audience with his clever interpretation. Other humorous roles were portrayed by Dick Powers as Prof. Willard, a little absent minded; Jim Anderson as Simon Stimson, a heavy drinker who tries to maintain dignity; Jeannette Johnston, the town gossip.

Other Roles In Play

Other roles were Bill Maves and Ben Karas as Joe Crowell and Si Crowell, newspaper boys; John Woodruff as Constable Warren; Bill Wolkenshauer as Sam Craig, cousin from the city, and Charles Stratton as Joe Stoddard, the hometown undertaker.

Participating in the play in minor roles were Robert Zitner, Robert Anderson, William Maves and Donald Dahlin as assistant stage managers; Janice McFadden, Ann Brunelle, Annette Courier and Ben Karas, dead people; Lois Olson, Lois Hennessey, Georgeann Mustonen, Marilyn Mambach, Peggy Anderson, Peggy Douglas, Carolyn Michael, Diane Nelson and Pat Niles, townspersons; Barbara Gallagher, Cheryl McDonough, Barbara Costley, D. Johnson, Maxine Sheedlo, Teresa Hansen and Kay Roushorne, mem-

Major Changes In Charter Cited By Chairman Sawyer

Principal changes in Escanaba's city charter, as proposed in a new charter to be submitted to a vote of the people on Dec. 7, were outlined to the Escanaba Rotary Club Monday noon by Carl Sawyer, chairman of the nine-member Charter Revision Commission.

Sawyer noted that the present city charter was adopted by the people in 1921 and has served the city well throughout the years, but times change and with it comes the need to bring the charter up to date.

New charters adopted at Marquette and Sault Ste. Marie, but primarily a study of the old charter and the needs of the Escanaba community, were considered by the Charter Revision Commission in preparation of the proposed new charter, Sawyer said.

Major Changes

The processes by which the Charter Commission arrived at decisions in formulating the new charter, together with public hearings and discussion meetings over a period of many months, were explained by the speaker.

bers of the choir, and organist, Mrs. Cory Hartbarger, high school music teacher.

The only criticism against the play was a group of high school students in the audience, who laughed at all the wrong times and were very distracting for the rest of the appreciative crowd.

Director of the unusual play was John Romstad, who did a superb job with the students in presenting "Our Town."

Chairman Sawyer listed major changes proposed in the new charter as follows:

1—Provisions for a primary election for City Council in the event the number of candidates is more than double the number of offices vacant. By narrowing the field of candidates the possibility of a minority-elected Councilman is avoided.

2—Increases the pay of Councilmen from $5 to $10 per meeting and the annual total from not more than $120 to not more than $490.

Municipal Court

3—Creation of a Municipal Court and abolishment of the Municipal Court system in the city. The municipal court section of the charter would not become effective until Jan. 2, 1957.

The municipal judge, who would be elected by the people, would serve for a term of six years. Candidates for municipal court judge must be attorneys at law and residents of Escanaba. City Council is empowered to fix the salary of the municipal judge, at not less than $3,000 nor more than $6,000 per year. Until otherwise provided by ordinance the charter establishes the salary at $3,600 per year.

The six-year term of office of the municipal judge is mandatory under state law.

The new charter will also provide that the city attorney, as well as the city assessor and the city clerk, be appointed by the City Council. Under the present ordinance only the city clerk and city assessor are appointed by Council, and the city attorney is appointed by the city manager.

Chinchilla Breeders See Bright Future In Luxury Fur Market

M. A. Trams of Escanaba who has been a principal in the chinchilla raising business in this area for the past 10 years or so reports that top quality chinchilla pelts are finding a ready market as luxury fur.

There has been a very interesting development in the chinchilla business. Until the past year or so chinchilla raising was an extremely speculative business with the emphasis primarily on breeding stock.

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

From a Yucaipa, California, reader comes this query: "Would you be kind enough to give us the name of a coined composite name, such as STECO, made up of the initial letters of our company's name, Smith Tool & Engineering Company?"

Glad to be of service, sir. A word formed of the first or first few letters of several other words is called an "acronym"—a term made up of the Greek "akros" meaning top or end and "onyma," name. Thus an acronym is a word made up of the front ends of other words.

In the early days of the New Deal, with the establishment of dozens of elaborately titled agencies like the Home Owners Loan Corporation and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, newspapers were forced, because of space limitations, to refer to many of these agencies by their initials. The next logical step was to create pronounceable abbreviations to eliminate the need for spelling out each element in the title. The abbreviation for Reserve Officers Training Corps which, in the twenties, had been generally spelled out "R. O. T. C." was discovered to be pronounceable. So, by the mid-thirties, the American term was usually heard as "ROH-tuh-see"—and one of the earliest acronyms was created.

Acronyms did not reach their full flower of popularity, however, until World War II, when designations such as WAC, WAVE and RADAR became so commonplace that they were actually abbreviations for longer phrases.

In point of time, the responsibility for creation of the first pronounceable abbreviations (the word "acronym" hadn't been coined then) can probably be laid to the British who, in World War I, popularized ANZAC (Australian and New Zealand Army Corps) and DORA (Defense of the Realm Act).

From Columbus, Ohio, comes this query: "An announcer broadcasting from our state fair today said: '301 weathers were sold today to establish a new record for the fair.' What on earth did he mean?"

What he meant, dear lady, wasn't "weathers" but "wethers"—male sheep. Your confusion is understandable since these two words are "homonyms"—words which sound alike but have very different meanings.

Communist Justice

MUCH mystery surrounds the case of the long-missing Noel Field and his wife, who disappeared behind the Iron Curtain in 1949. Without attempting to judge Field in any way, we can see in his treatment a beautiful example of the workings of Communists justice.

According to the Hungarian radio, which announced his release, Field had been arrested on spy charges. Quite matter-of-factly, as if he had spent no more than a weekend in jail, Hungary now says the charges have been dropped because they could not be "justified."

Five years is a long time to keep a man waiting while it is determined that he shouldn't be kept waiting.

The story may be much more complex than appears on the surface. But if the reality is anything like the present appearance, this is one of the weirdest demonstrations in the weird record of alleged Communist justice.

Try And Stop Me By BENNETT CERF

Harry Sauber tells about a writer, in search of material, who interviewed a bit player at a major Hollywood studio. How did he become an aspiring movie actor? Well, explained the player, he had been a handler in a flea circus, and had been bitten by Felix, star of the troupe. While recuperating, he came to the coast for a visit and drifted into films. "I've heard plenty of people say it," enthused the writer, "but you are positively the first person who actually became an actor because he was bitten by an acting bug."

Recent description of a lawyer by a disgruntled competitor: "He's the kind of member of the bar who believes every client is innocent until he's proven broke."

The Doctor Says...
More Children Die From Accidents Than Illness

By EDWIN P. JORDAN M.D. — Written for NEA Service

Spectacular progress has been made in reducing the chances of death in children from 5 to 14 years of age. This together with other valuable information on deaths in children has been brought out in the bulletin of a large life insurance company recently.

In 1933 about 158 of every 100,000 boys of elementary school age insured in this company died; in 1953 this had dropped to only 57 per 100,000. Among their outlook improved even more. Their death rate fell from 126 to 37 per 100,000.

THE EXPLANATION for this remarkable improvement is principally in the reduction of the illness and death rates from the common communicable diseases of childhood, from appendicitis, from pneumonia and influenza, and from tuberculosis. In spite of this pneumonia and influenza and poliomyelitis remain among the leading causes of death among children from 5 to 14.

Since some children still die, however, what are the factors presently responsible? Of the 15,000 deaths in the United States occurring between 5 and 14 years of age, accidents constitute the greatest single menace. As might be expected, because of their greater venturesomeness, fatal accidents are more than twice as common among boys as girls. But altogether accidents were responsible for 2 out of 5 of the deaths in this age group in the year 1950.

CONTRARY TO WHAT some people believe, cancer and allied conditions are responsible for some deaths even in these youngsters. They have always occurred but now occupy a higher place in the scale of causes of death because of reduction in so many of the others. Actually, according to the bulletin mentioned, these conditions are a more important cause of death among children 5 to 14 than any other. Of these the leukemias account for nearly half.

There is a considerable variation in the number of deaths and their causes in different parts of the country. The record in New England for example, is better than that in the mountain states which may be accounted for in part by a higher accident rate in the latter and perhaps in part by more rheumatic fever.

AS TO RHEUMATIC FEVER, however, there has been a definite improvement in outlook for life. There appears to be better prospects of complete recovery following rheumatic fever and real progress has been made in diagnosis, prevention and treatment. All these lower the death rate from this serious disease.

Much more can be done to reduce deaths in childhood. One of the principal lines of attack is certainly against accidents at this age. Also increased attention to early symptoms, to using known methods of rehabilitation following disease or injury, and the co-operation of preachers, parents, community health agencies and the medical profession should still further improve the outlook.

WASHINGTON—Passage by the Senate of a resolution censuring Senator McCarthy, or even adoption of a "compromise" softening the reprimand, will not end the controversy. There are signs that the cleavage is widening any may plague America with an issue comparable in its emotional fury to the dissension over slavery 100 years ago.

It is time for serious thought as to what can be done to heal the wounds and focus on truth rather than anger.

There have been mistakes made by Senator McCarthy—plenty of them—and there have been mistakes made—plenty of them—by opponents of the Wisconsin senator. Humility seems to be lacking among some of the prominent protagonists on both sides. It is not pleasant to write about personalities, and this correspondent has felt that the basic issue was not necessarily McCarthy, the man, but a fundamental difference of opinion over ways and means of combatting the vicious methods of the Communists inside our government and their infiltration into American institutions outside the government. Also, there are legal weaknesses in the Watkins report which, if the Senate now approves it, will afford a precedent for persecution of senators by one another and for the curtailment of free speech by intolerant majorities.

A HUMAN PROBLEM

But today in the Senate, to add to these complexities, there has arisen a human situation—one that goes beyond the legalities or the letter of written rules or rights. Senators are just as quick to be resentful under attack and find it as difficult, under provocation, to "turn the other cheek" as do men in any other walk of life. One wonders sometimes what miracles would happen if the courage to follow the basic tenets of Christian philosophy were to be suddenly given to everybody in the Senate.

For the problem of Joseph R. McCarthy is a human problem. Here is a man who comes to the Senate as a member of a so-called "minority" group. He knows from the 1928 experience of the late Alfred E. Smith, three times governor of New York, that an intolerant and bigoted group in America have decreed that no Catholic shall ever be elected President of the United States. Every mother who gazes at her newborn child has hopes that such an honor might come some day to her son—but the politicians of today, looking at the electoral votes of 1928, feel otherwise.

Psychologists say that with excessive pride and a feeling of frustration comes an aggressive effort to show superiority. The struggle for power among public men is often marked with defeats for their pride and ambition, administered to them through the cruel intolerance of their fellow men.

Three years of steady, unrelenting attack on Senator McCarthy by his opponents have hardened him. He has truly become obsessed with the idea that the fight against him originated with and is being aided and abetted by the Communists. Many of his supporters are convinced of it.

MOB AT HIS HEELS

There are, of course, many persons who are just as bitterly opposed to Communists in government as is the Wisconsin senator, and they have felt that he himself has shown an intolerance, as well as an arrogance, that defeats its own cause. But Senator McCarthy is really deaf to any such argument. He sees only the mob at his heels, always ready to "lynch" him without a trial on the basic issues. He sees himself unjustly accused of personal dishonesty through the innuendoes of the Hennings committee in its 1952 report. He sees the Department of Justice, by formal pronouncement in May, 1953, clearing him of any law violation. But then he sees the Watkins committee, without a scintilla of evidence, again giving weight to the same innuendoes of dishonesty. Then the tiger in McCarthy's makeup begins to fight back.

Senator Flanders of Vermont made a speech in the Senate on June 1 and said: "We're the junior senator from Wisconsin in the pay of the Communists, he could not have done a better job for them." But nobody proposed to censure the Vermont senator. So, resentful of the Watkins report, Senator McCarthy says the members of the committee are the "unwitting handmaids of the Communists."

Perhaps the Wisconsin senator was thinking about the language of President Truman, who in a speech in Oklahoma City on Sept. 28, 1948—as recorded and transcribed by the New York Times—said:

"The fact of the matter is that the Republican party is unwittingly the ally of the Communists in this country. That is clearly shown in the election record of the Communist party."

When Senator McCarthy called the Democrats a "party of treason," he thought he was indulging in the license of political combat.

But now he is about to be censured for saying some of the same things censured by others. Hence, feeling a sense of martyrdom and despairing of a fair verdict in the Senate, he decides to go to the court of last resort—the people—to argue his case and fight it out, even while the Republican party is strown with the wreckage of its own internal strife in the recent elections. But the discord goes deeper—into both parties—as America is torn asunder by a wave of hate and bitterness and 10,000,000 signatures are sought for a petition defending McCarthy.

How Yankee Pilot Helped Chase Communists From Guatemala

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
GUATEMALA CITY—(NEA)—

A former U. S. Army Air Corps fighter pilot and colorful freelance soldier-of-fortune was the man responsible for the dramatic air operations against Communist forces in the revolution last summer which kicked them out of this Central American Republic.

He is 33-year-old Jerry Fred DeLarm, a slim dark, breezy individual born in San Francisco, son of famed pioneer pilot Eddie DeLarm and father of three children.

Three crucial times his air missions changed the course of the revolution in favor of the democratic forces of Col. Carlos Castillo Armas.

The day Armas crossed the border Jerry dropped a bale of propaganda leaflets on the doorsteps of Communist President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman, precipitating panic among Arbenz and his staff from which they never recovered.

At a vital stage of the confused fighting he dropped two bombs in the center of the fort on the edge of Guatemala City set off an ammunition dump, killing 200 soldiers.

News of this hit was accepted by Guatemalans as the deciding factor in the struggle. They rejoiced. And it wrecked Arbenz' plan to leave Col. Diaz behind as his stooge.

After the peace negotiations began Jerry was flying Armas in Armas air force consisted of six P-47 Thunderbolts and three C-47 transports. Most of the planes were bought in the U.S. through surplus channels. They had been "demilitarized" but Jerry supervised replacement of the armament.

Just before Armas forces crossed the border Jerry dropped a bale of propaganda leaflets on the doorsteps of Alcira Goicoechea, sister of Domingo Goicoechea and a key underground figure, that the Reds knew of his part in the upcoming revolt. He had already moved his pregnant wife and two children out and escaped on a regular Pan-American flight hours before they tried to arrest him at his home near the American embassy.

On June 17 Jerry flew his first mission, dropping leaflets on Guatemala City. The effect on the population was electric, signaling that the intolerable yoke of communism was about to be thrown off.

But the bale of leaflets, which had been tied by mistake, and which landed a few yards from Arbenz' office with a loud bang, panicked the Comimie staff.

Armas first ordered his pilots to shoot into the air. Later they began shooting at military targets.

During these attacks Arbenz announced that a three-year-old girl, Hilda Leticia Torres, had been killed by one of Jerry's bullets.

It set off an international propaganda blast in the Comimie press. But a quick check by the underground revealed that she had been struck on the lip by a spent .22 caliber bullet. They hid her immediately, knowing that Arbenz would want her killed. She is alive today and was recently visited by Jerry.

He had been flying around Central America with his dad since he was nine, knew the language, most of the important people, and was married to a relative of the ex-President of Costa Rica, Dr. Calderon-Guardia.

During World War II Jerry shot down two Jap Zeros and flew bomber-escort and strafing missions against the Jap mainland. After the war he was in a half dozen airline ventures and fought against pinko forces which took over Costa Rica in 1948.

In 1950 he did sky writing and aerial broadcasting for the Arbenz campaign. But he was cheated out of the $20,000 they promised him and he saw the Comimie control of the Arbenz group. This prepared him for his later work with Armas.

A streak of foul weather forced Jerry to lead most of the missions through the dense clouds to the targets from the secret field which was their base. He was the only pilot who knew the area well enough to locate targets by instrument flying.

His mission against Fort Matamoros, key Red defense post, took

We will fight if we must to protect our freedom and our honor, but we will do all we reasonably can to avoid a fight. The best and only way of avoiding war is through strength.—Gen. James Doolittle.

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON
(NEA Washington Correspondent)

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—It came as something of a surprise to Democratic National Committee headquarters and to Democratic leaders on Capitol Hill to learn that David K. E. Bruce was their party's "consultant" with the State Department and Republican Secretary John Foster Dulles for the carrying out of a bi-partisan foreign policy.

Secretary Dulles identified Mr. Bruce as his liaison man at a Washington press conference. If the word got to Paris, where Mr. Bruce runs his special mission and maintains his headquarters, it may have surprised him, too.

There is no doubt but that Mr. Bruce is a Democrat. He was born one, the son of U. S. Sen. William C. Bruce of Maryland. He ran for the Maryland legislature in 1923 when he was 25 years old. He was elected on a platform of repealing prohibition, legalizing horse racing and protecting for hunting.

Moving to Virginia and settling down as a gentleman farmer 10 years later, Bruce was elected to the Old Dominion's House of Delegates.

IN THE TRUMAN ADMINISTRATION Bruce served as an assistant secretary of commerce, as deputy administrator of the Marshall Plan, as ambassador to France and as undersecretary of state under Dean Acheson. That certainly qualifies him as Democrat.

If still more evidence is needed, it should be recorded that come election time, he has always been a heavy contributor to Democratic campaign funds. But as Democratic consultant and maker of bipartisan foreign policy with the Republicans—that's a job he was never given officially.

Records at the State Department personnel offices don't even indicate that Mr. Bruce is rated that high. He doesn't even have the rank of "ambassador" which Mr. Dulles had when he was Republican adviser to the Democratic-controlled State Department.

Mr. Bruce is on the payroll under a rating of foreign service reserve officer, "class one." This pays $12,000 to $14,000 a year, only half of what an ambassador gets. Money is of no particular object to Mr. Bruce, however, because he's independently wealthy. He works for the government for the love of it.

OFFICIALLY, MR. BRUCE was given his present job in Europe by President Eisenhower in February, 1953—only a month after inauguration. The title that went with the job was "U. S. Observer to the Interim Committee on the European Defense Community and U. S. Representative to the European Coal and Steel Community."

Mr. Bruce was also assigned to follow the work which is going forward for the creation of a European Political Community. EDC is now a dead duck, but there are other responsibilities in connection with the Paris pact to admit Germany to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. His office, separate from the U. S. embassy in Paris, is known as "The Bruce Mission."

Secretary Dulles says all this work which Mr. Bruce is doing in Europe is comparable to the work to which West was rather reckless when he left South in three notrump doubled. After all, North himself had contributed largely to that contract's being reached, and his hand would not stand up to his own bidding.

West opened the club seven. Dummy's ten holding, South took the diamond finesse and then cashed the diamond ace. West, after long indecision, discarded a low club. (He was afraid that giving up a heart would "show up" his partner in that suit, but he might get his partner to drop out of the club suit. East followed orders, and West cashed two spades and the club ace, setting the contract one trick.

If West had held his clubs, as was so obviously in order, the points would have been 1100 instead of 200.

'Stalag 17' Is Next In Series

The second play in the Civic Drama Guild series, "Stalag 17", sponsored by the Escanaba Lions Club, will be presented in Escanaba next Tuesday, Nov. 30.

Tickets for this play and the final in the series, "The Velvet Glove", are on sale now and can be purchased from Lions members or at Gust Asps. Tickets for both play or for "Stalag 17" only may be purchased now.

"Stalag 17" is one of the most intriguing stories to come out of World War II. The setting is a Nazi prison camp and the story was both a popular novel and a successful film in addition to being a drama hit.

The first play in the series, "The Fourposter" presented Nov. 1, had a cast of only two persons. "Stalag 17", however, has a cast of eight, all talented professional New York actors. It is an all-male cast.

Marinette Youth Dies Of Monoxide

MARINETTE — Wedding plans of a young Twin City couple were ended by tragedy Saturday night when James C. Sommers, 19, of Marinette R2, died of carbon monoxide poisoning and his fiancee, Shirley Ann Lefery, 18, of 326 2nd Street, Menominee, was overcome.

They were found in a car parked on Irving Street, off Hall Avenue, Marinette, at 9:15 a. m., Sunday. Sommers had been dead for some time, but Miss Lemery, whose head was near a car window, apparently got enough fresh air to save her. She was unconscious, however. Ansul Rescue Squad administered first aid and she was removed to Marinette General Hospital.

Her condition was reported improved today, but she was still only semi-conscious.

Marinette police who investigated said there was a hole in the car muffler. The car was out of gas and the motor was cold, indicating that they had suffered carbon monoxide poisoning from the defective muffler several hours before they were found by two Marinette youngsters who told their parents. The parents summoned police.

Police said Sommers had planned to go hunting Sunday and had said he would be home early, indicating that they had been overcome Saturday evening.

Marinette Coroner Robert L. Thompson continued his investigation today. No plans have been made for an inquest, pending questioning of Miss Lemery as soon as her condition permits.

Vishinsky's Death Blow To Moscow's Propaganda Drive

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

The death of Andrei Y. Vishinsky is a blow to Moscow's propaganda drive. To the Soviet people and the Communist world, Vishinsky was Mr. Peaceful Coexistence.

At this stage of the current global tug of war, Vishinsky was a symbol of the Soviet drive to convince the world Moscow alone was the bulwark of peace. With talents peculiarly suited to the task, he succeeded in convincing many.

Soviet policy was transmitted to him and announced by him as chief delegate to the United Nations, creating the impression that the U.S.S.R. intended to make the world organization the principal arena of its political war with the United States.

Hard To Replace

For many reasons it will be difficult for Moscow to replace Vishinsky. The Kremlin has nobody at the moment of his caliber and talents.

Dour, unsmiling Andrei Gromyko might be regarded as the logical successor, but some factors could rule him out. Though a veteran of U.N. debates, he is known to be in extremely poor health and gossips has it he suffers from an incurable ailment. In addition, he is believed to be a protege of Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, which might be enough in current high-level Soviet politics to keep him from rising higher. At present he is a "first" deputy foreign minister, the same rank Vishinsky held. His present station is in the Moscow Foreign Office.

Others To Pick From

There is no question Gromyko now ranks highest in the Foreign Ministry under Molotov. But there are others in the ministry's collegium to choose from, able diplomats who have proved themselves abroad.

Prospective candidates include Deputy Foreign Minister V. A. Zorin, a tough negotiator and dedicated diplomat who helped engineer the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia, and Jacob Malik, who has headed the Soviet U.N. delegation in the absence of Vishinsky.

Memorial services were held Saturday morning at Belle Fourche. His remains were then taken to Glendive, Mont., where he formerly lived, for burial.

His wife, a sister and a brother survive.

Hospital

James Trepianer, three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Trepianer, Bark River Rte. 1, has been released from St. Francis Hospital where he underwent a tonsillectomy.

John Budinger, Escanaba Rte. 1, is a medical patient at St. Francis Hospital.

Arthur L. Nichols, 1320 Lake Shore Drive, Gladstone, has been admitted to the Veterans Hospital at Iron Mountain for medical treatment.

Wall Street

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels, oils and chemicals led the stock market higher today in heavy trading.

Gains generally outdistanced losses but there were exceptions. Up at least a point were Houston Oil Standard Oil (NJ) and Du Pont.

Others on the rise were U. S. Steel, General Motors, Goodyear, Douglas Aircraft, Radio Corp., American Telephone, Kennebott Copper, American Cyanamid, Westinghouse, Santa Fe and Loew's.

Lower were Seiberling Rubber, International Harvester, Boeing, United Aircraft, American Can, and International Paper.

With The Deer Hunters

Mrs. Fred Krouth, of Perkins, shot a 136 pound spike horn buck Saturday. She and her husband are hunting from a cabin north of Perkins.

Hunters from Chicago staying at the Lundberg cabin north of Perkins have all returned home with a deer. They are Theodore Anderson, George Johnson, Iver Palmgren, Gunnar Anderson, and son Arthur Simon Lundberg.

Miles Malin, 505 S. 13th St., Sunday shot a six point buck, which weighed about 165 pounds, in the Powers area.

Matt Lushay, of Perronville, killed a spikehorn Wednesday. He was amazed when the animal weighed in at 176 pounds. "Must have been a swamp deer," Lushay commented.

Hunting out of the Scotty Johnston place at Ensign this season were a number of downstate nimrods. Getting bucks were Emery Toth of Muskegon and Ed Herrick of Battle Creek, and Scotty himself. None of the bucks set any records for weight or rack of antlers. Continuing to hunt at the Johnstons are Harold Mehl and his son, Dwayne, of Traverse City.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Committee for Economic Development, a private research organization of business leaders, today urged a five-year extension of the reciprocal trade program and "gradual and selective tariff reduction."

The CED policy statement, although in the main supporting President Eisenhower's tariff program, went farther than the President in some respects.

Eisenhower asked the last Congress to extend the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act for three years and give him power to cut tariffs as much as 5 per cent a year during that period. In the rush of last-minute business, Congress simply extended the old tariff program for a year. Eisenhower made those remarks in commenting on the proposal by French President Mendes-France that a Big Four conference be held next May—after ratification of the London and Paris agreements.

The President said emphatically, however, he wanted to repeat that whenever the United States has any real reason to believe any country wants to talk earnestly about peace, the talks will be held.

Security—Eisenhower said Security of States Duties gave much power to study to the John Paton Davies case before deciding to fire the career diplomat for lack of judgment.

As for whether the Davies case should recognize Red China. The superintendents ruled out debate of that question which had been posed as one for college debaters to tackle this year.

Big Four meeting—The President said he would not favor a Big Four meeting with Russia until:

(1) the London and Paris agreements have been ratified; (2) there is promise that such a conference would have real fruitfulness; and

(3) adequate preparations had been made for such a meeting.

Democrats Plan Big Spring Push

LANSING (AP)—The Democratic State Central Committee plans to spend five times more money on next spring's election than it ever did before.

The committee authorized a campaign fund of $25,000. Chairman Neil Staebler said this was five times the amount ever spent before.

The fund was part of a $95,000 budget authorized for the next year, a political off-year. The sum is half that budgeted for the 1954 election year.

The central committee, meeting Sunday, promulgated recommendations to Democratic congressmen and state legislators.

The congressional proposals included review of farm policies, increased income tax exemptions, repudiation of the Dixon-Yates power contract, more federal aid for education and highway construction.

The legislative program included fair employment practices legislation, approval of half-billion dollar highway construction bond issue, higher unemployment compensation, recodification of penal laws, bipartisan election reforms, and expanded help for farm marketing and research and the tourist industry.

American influence in Paris has affected French eating customs, the National Geographic Society reports. In a city noted for its leisurely lunches, two cafeterias have opened recently and report a rushing business, particularly among young Persians.

Origin of the U. S. Memorial Day is said to be an order by Gen. John A. Logan, in 1868 when he was commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, northern Civil War counterpart of today's American Legion, requiring all posts to hold ceremonies during which flowers were to be placed on war graves.

Schools Best Place To Fight Communism, Two Governors Say

HARRIMAN, N. Y. (AP)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan and Gov.-elect Averell Harriman of New York say education is a vital key in the fight against communism and they urge federal funds for school construction.

The two Democrats conferred here Sunday on problems facing their states. They met newsmen at Harriman's Arden Farms estate after a luncheon at which Williams and his wife were guests of the Harrimans.

Harriman and Williams said education is a "national concern."

Williams observed that "education or the lack of it may not be as an explosive issue as the atom bomb, but in the long run it is just as important."

Russia Leads Race

Harriman, formerly ambassador to Russia, said the Soviet government has increased its educational system 10 times while the United States has only doubled its educational investment.

Williams said, "We've got to look at this as a race with Russia."

Williams added it is essential to limit federal school aid to construction to minimize the chance of federal interference in education.

Yesterday's conference was the second of a series that Harriman plans with Democratic governors and governors-elect to discuss mutual problems and to coordinate their positions on problems they feel need congressional attention.

Williams told of the steps taken by the Economic Development Commission of Michigan to attract industries.

Duisburg, Busy Ruhr Port Will Drop Harbor's Floor

WASHINGTON—Duisburg on the Rhine, Europe's busiest inland river port, plans to let the bottom out of its harbor.

The project calls for the gradual collapse of worked-out coal mines tunneled beneath the river bed. A delicate engineering undertaking, the job is expected to last 20 years and has two main objectives: the deepening of the harbor and the lowering of docks that are being left high above the water's surface as erosion slowly reduces the Rhine level.

Duisburg, now combined with neighboring Hamborn and Ruhrort, is the chief gateway to the coal-rich Ruhr, heart of West Germany's heavy industry, says the National Geographic Society.

Like other cities in this smoky, hard-working region of iron and steel mills, it has had an up-and-down career.

Ancient Settlement

Through wars, prosperity and depressions, Duisburg's location at the confluence of the Rhine and Ruhr rivers has guaranteed it a key place in European trade and traffic.

The city's history goes back to a Roman settlement. During medieval times a Frankish fortress built by Charlemagne stood guard there over a river crossing.

Now performance never before possible with regular grade gasoline

New Shell Gasoline, regular grade, contains TCP—Shell-developed additive that stops the greatest cause of power waste

Now motorists who use regular grade fuels in their cars can enjoy performance never possible before.

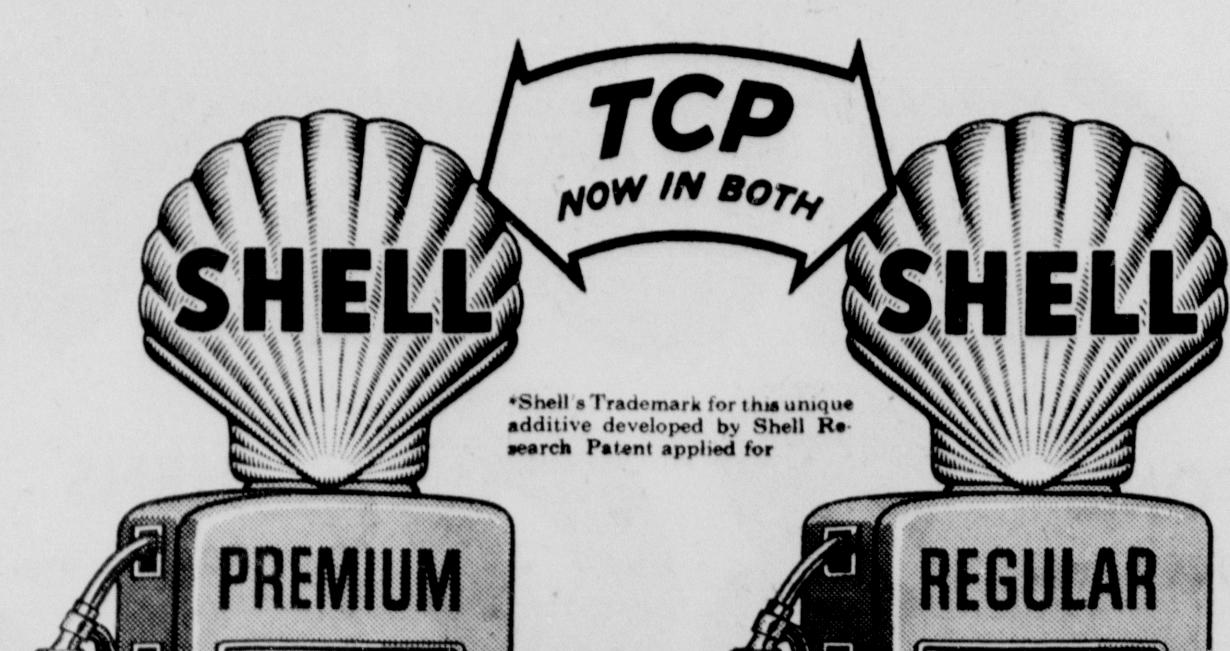

TCP*, first introduced in Shell Premium Gasoline exclusively, has now been blended into Shell Gasoline (regular grade).

As a result, engines designed to operate on regular gasoline can benefit two ways. First, TCP additive "fireproofs" combustion chamber deposits, effectively controlling pre-ignition. Second, by changing the deposits on the spark plugs to non-conductors of electricity, TCP additive stops misfiring. Each plug fires as it should, preventing fuel waste.

By correcting these engine troubles, Shell Gasoline (regular grade) with TCP gives an increase in acceleration, in smoothness of engine operation and in mileage.

Since engine deposits form constantly, continued use of Shell Gasoline (regular grade) with TCP additive is essential to retain its benefits. Now at all Shell Dealers.

WHERE QUALITY COUNTS

Look at the people who serve Canada Dry. They are men and women whose good taste shows in their homes, in their manners, in their hospitality.

You expect these people to choose Canada Dry. No other name could possibly live up to their standards. No other label carries so much prestige.

The reasons for Canada Dry eminence go back fifty years. Because there is no short cut to quality. Judge for yourself. Follow your own good taste. It will lead you, inevitably, to these superb Canada Dry beverages:

Canada Dry Ginger Ale is the original pale dry ginger ale. It was created and perfected by Canada Dry. It has the flavor, the lightness, the liveliness that other ginger ales can merely try to imitate. And not one comes even close.

Sparkling Canada Dry Water is the only club soda with "Pin-Point Carbonation." It makes every kind of drink taste better. It also makes Canada Dry Water the best-liked, best-selling club soda in the world.

Pelican Bites Visitor At Zoo

LONDON (AP)—Alec Panton reported Monday he survived a surprise trip part way down a pelican. He emerged smelling fishy and with two abrasions on his forehead.

The incident, Panton said, occurred at the London zoo.

He and his two small children were leaning over a wire fence watching a flock of the feathered fish-eaters with the outsized bills taking an after-dinner nap.

Mindful of the old rhyme (A wonderful bird is the pelican, he holds more in his beak than his belly can), Panton warned the kids not to get too close.

At this point, Panton told a reporter, one of the birds waddled over, reached out, and snap! There was Panton with his head inside the pouch where Pelicans normally store their spare fish.

"Finally the pelican let go and I retrieved my head," said Panton. "It drew blood on either side of my forehead but I wasn't really very hurt."

John Yealand, the zoo's curator of birds, expressed surprise when told of Panton's odd adventure.

"We have never," he declared, "had any previous complaints about our pelicans biting people."

pushing more fancy glasswork before the public today than ever before.

Last year, the first time that whisky decanters hit package stores in quantity, they were a big success. This year, with even more dazzling an array, there's the first grumbling from some bewildered retailers and bartenders.

The liquor industry counts on the next five weeks to furnish one third of its annual retail sales. Last year sales were around 1½ billion dollars for the holidays.

The public has apparently taken to the fancy bottles. This year an increasing number are being made with a dual purpose: to hold the liquor sold in them, and then when emptied to serve for a variety of other things, from cocktail shakers to pyrex coffee holders, and even as coffee table legs.

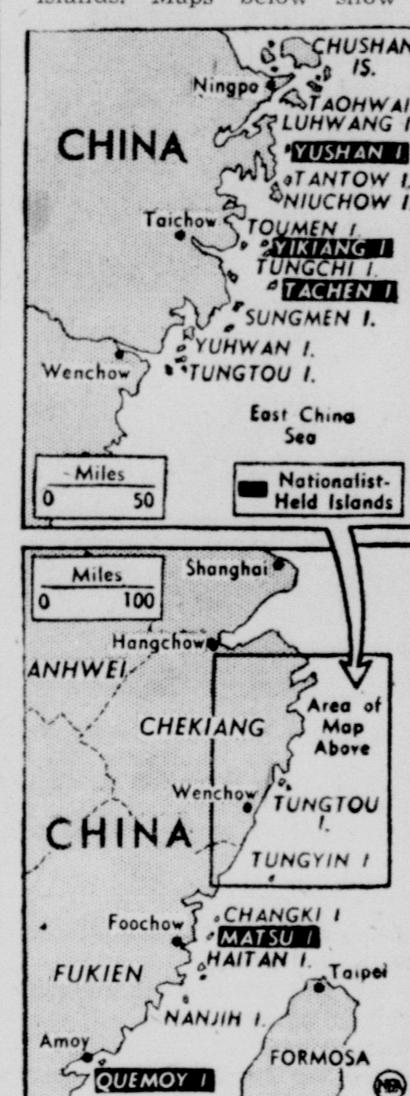

The confusion is reported by the Wine & Spirits Wholesalers of America, some of whose members say they're bewildered by the great flood of odd-shaped bottles. Dealers are hard put to it to find additional shelf space for all varieties.

But the distillers, impressed by the sales spurt that last year's fancy containers chalked up, have hired top industrial designers to pretty up this season's offerings.

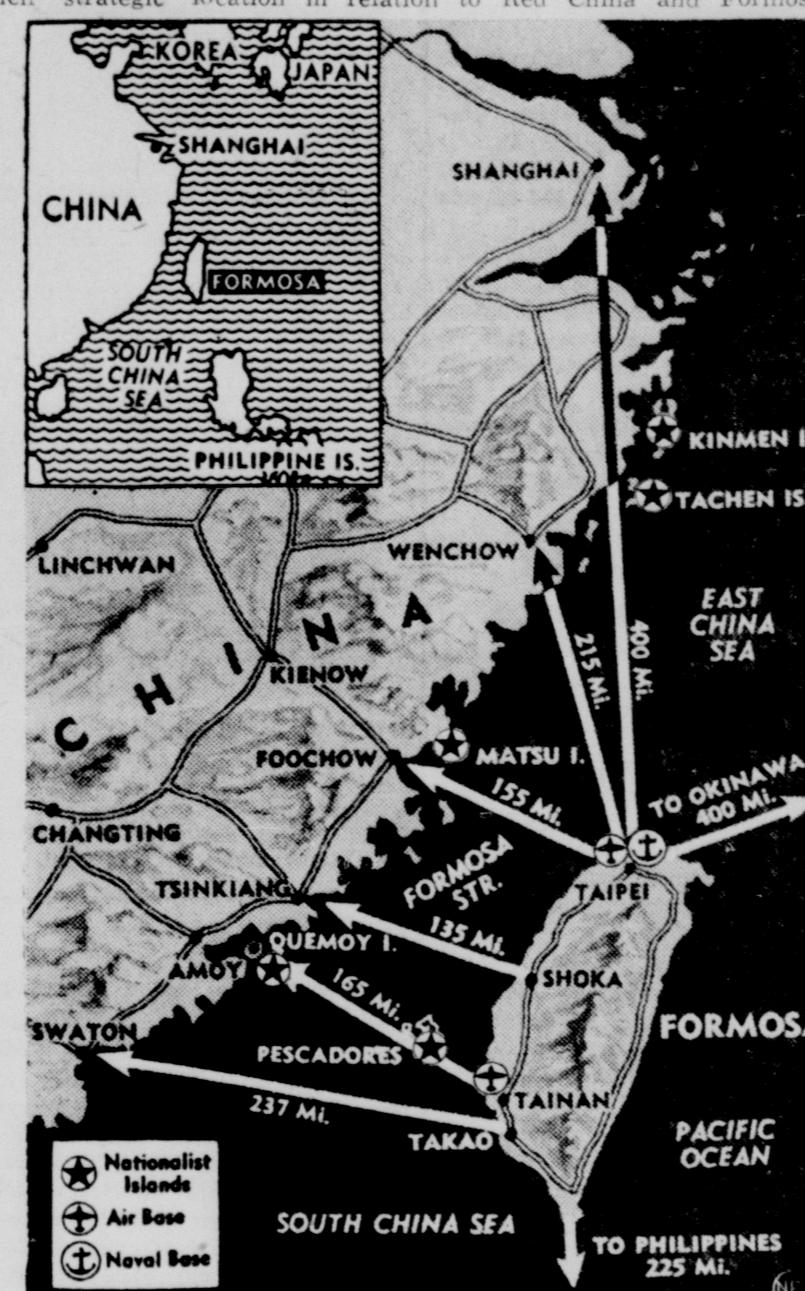

Part of this great rush to lure customers and push holiday gift sales rises from the slowdown in consumption. Despite the growth in population and general prosperity, sales this year are well behind last year's 195 million gallons.

China's Powder-Keg Islands

The most worrisome-to-Washington real estate in the world is a string of tiny islands fringing the coast of Red China for 350 miles. They have a total area of fewer than 200 square miles. Many are Nationalist held. The Reds want them—indeed, must have them, if they are ever to launch an all-out attack on Formosa. The Nationalists seem determined to hold them. The clash could trigger general war. So critical is the situation that Secretary of State Dulles is reported to have tried (vainly) to persuade Chiang Kai-shek to voluntarily withdraw from the islands. Maps below show their strategic location in relation to Red China and Formosa.

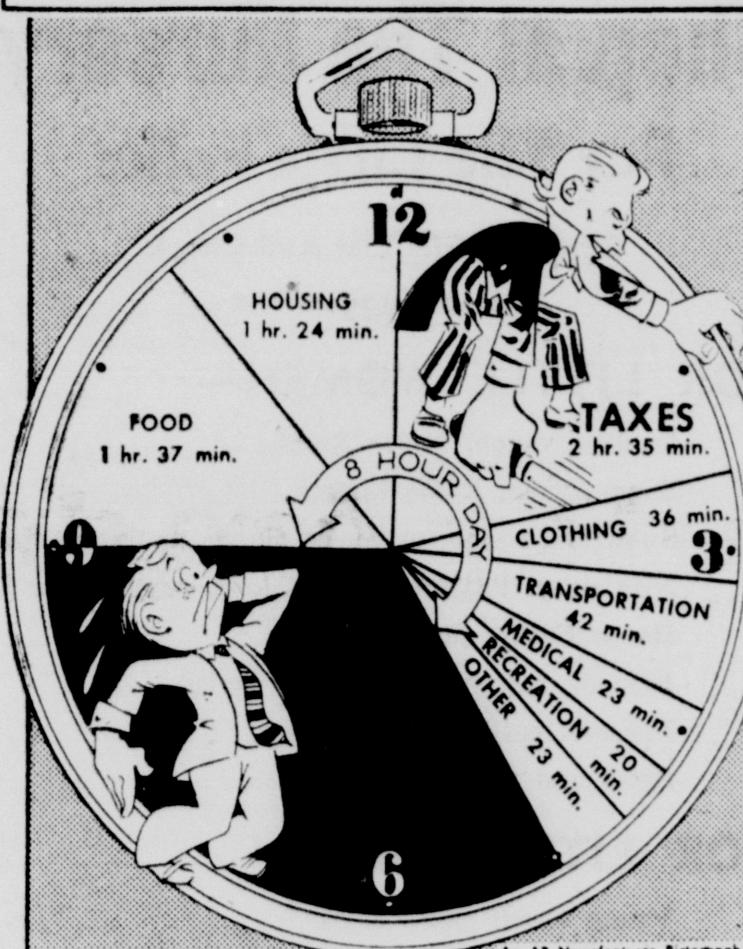

Map shows fringe of tiny island outposts along Chine coast, scene of bombings, artillery duels and raids by both sides. Northern anchor is Tachen group, where Communist torpedo boat recently sank Nationalist destroyer. Southern anchor is Quemoy, under bombardment from Amoy.

Map shows Formosa and distances from this Nationalist stronghold to strategic areas on the coast of Red China.

Rotten Pole Saves Driver From Fine

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—John Robert Harris Jr., was convicted of reckless driving. The principal evidence against him was the neat clipping off of a telephone pole.

He said he swerved to avoid another car and his speed was less than 25 miles an hour. The pole broke, he said, because it was rotten. After examining a section of the pole, the judge smiled and acquitted Harris.

Miss Nadeau Of Green Bay Bride In Church Rites

Relax In Luxurious Bath

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

A Green Bay wedding this past weekend of interest here is that of Miss Rosemary Therese Nadeau and Richard E. Fedash which took place at 9 a. m. Saturday at St. Patrick's Church there. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Nadeau and her mother was Catherine Kintziger member of a well known Escanaba family.

The ceremony, performed by Msgr. Henry C. Head, was followed by a family breakfast at the bride's home and a dinner and reception at the Riverside ballroom.

Ice Blue Gown

The bride's gown was of ice blue nylon tulle, its scalloped scroll neckline outlined with a Victorian pattern of seed pearls and sequins applied over lace. The short sleeves with matching Victorian pattern ended in scallops and the full skirt flared to a whisper train. Tulle gauntlets, a French lace headpiece of Chantilly lace and double layers of ice blue nylon tulle with leaves of pearls between the layers and a veil of ice blue imported silk illusion, with hand-rolled hem, completed her attire. She carried a cascade of lilies of the valley centered with a white orchid.

Miss Marilyn Mathys, her only attendant wore pink net and lace over taffeta and carried a fan of pink roses.

Escanaba Guests

Thomas Fedash, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fedash of Streeter, Ill.

The newlyweds will live at 318 Newhall St. in Green Bay following a honeymoon in southern Wisconsin and Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brown, Mrs. John Kintziger and Mr. and Mrs. Michael G. Kintziger of Escanaba were among the wedding guests.

New Knitwear Is Washable

By ALICIA HART

NEA Beauty Editor

With knitted suits being made of synthetic fibers, the budget-wary woman will soon find their upkeep and washability as simple and safe as washing an orlon sweater.

There was a time when, even if you dared to wash your own knitwear (and the result wasn't a tragic one) you still had to pay blocking expenses in order to retain the original shape of the garment.

Today's fibers and fabrics make for shape-retention. Permanently-pleated skirts still look like new even after several washings. Nylon and orlon are well known for their easy upkeep and crease-resistance.

Of course, the only "it's safe to wash" signal you can get from any garment is by reading the label. Then, you will know how to proceed, what temperature of water to use, what type of soap, rinsing instructions, etc.

Most of this season's synthetic knitwear, regardless of whether it's decorated with jewels and pearls or not, is considered washable.

These can be washed in warm (it's always the safest, water temperature) soapsuds. Remember to avoid any unnecessary rubbing, however, if you want to keep the suit as smooth-looking as possible.

When the suit is still slightly damp, you can smooth it out by brushing the surface gently. This will also prevent any fuzziness when the suit is dry.

Relax In Luxurious Bath

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Nothing makes a woman feel more feminine than a luxurious, scented bath. But, busy women often forsake this luxury in favor of the short, brisk, time-saving shower.

As your doctor will tell you, a long, soothing bath is the quickest, easiest and least expensive way to relax the nerves and muscles thoroughly.

And, if you have the proper bath preparations, the bath can become a glamorous beauty (as well as health) ritual.

Starting with bath crystals, put these right under the tap for a good softening and scenting effect.

Next, add bubble bath oil for an ultra-feminine feeling. It will also give your whole body the lubrication it needs.

Make certain your bath soap (choose your bath soap in rainbow colors, for a gay note) provides a foamy, rich lather as well as a refreshing scent.

Starting with your toes, scrub your entire body with a soap brush, paying particular attention to your heels, elbows, upper arms and wherever you notice roughened skin.

If you've spent some time as a weekend guest with someone who shares your love of bath preparations, you might offer her a thank-you gift of the same bath soap she so generously offered you during your stay.

This girl enjoys a luxurious bath, complete with bath crystals, bubble-bath oil and her favorite, scented bath soap.

Nancy Remington, L. F. Kaminski Wed In Detroit

NAHMA—A wedding of interest to Nahma residents, which took place recently in Detroit, united in marriage Miss Nancy J. Remington and Leonard F. Kaminski.

Miss Remington is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Remington, former Nahma residents. The bridegroom is the son of G. R. Kaminski, Detroit.

The ceremony was performed at the Precious Blood Church by Rev. Fr. McNicholas, who celebrated the Nuptial High Mass.

Bouquets of white mums and gladioli among lighted tapers decorated the altar before which the couple spoke their vows.

Lace and Nylon Tulle

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white lace and nylon tulle over satin. She carried a nosegay bouquet of white mums and carnations.

Mrs. Marvel Biess, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She was attired in a gown of green crystaline.

The bridesmaids, Lorraine Remington and Anastasia Harper, wore gowns identical to the matron of honor's in gold and cocoa brown crystaline.

They carried bouquets of yellow and brown mums.

Brother of the bride, William Remington, acted as best man. Seating the guests were Roy Harper and Stanley Kaminski.

Home In Detroit

A wedding breakfast for 80 guests was served at Carpenter's Hall and a reception followed later in the day for 300 guests. After a wedding trip to Colorado, the newlyweds will reside in Detroit.

Among the out-of-town guests was Mrs. Ed Tobin of Nahma.

Your Baby

It generally takes one thumping fall for parents to realize that baby can get about with great ease. He can't crawl yet, and he only rolls one way, perhaps, but suddenly he's off the bed and plop on the floor. Don't worry, he hasn't been hurt. But now is the time to keep a constant eye on him if you dress him on something high or let him lie on the sofa while you get his bottle. You may find a card listing all the things you need for his bath may enable you to get everything assembled in advance so you won't have to go back for the diaper pins you forgot.

Theresa Roberts, Kenneth Swanson Exchange Vows

Miss Theresa Roberts, 1321 1st Ave. S., became the bride of Kenneth Swanson, Escanaba, at Holy Family Church, Flat Rock, Saturday, Nov. 20. The Rev. G. F. Boy Confesses Killing Hunter

CADILLAC (P) — State police said that Mike Stevens, 15, of Cadillac, admitted he deliberately shot and killed Hugh Flake, a 68-year-old deer hunter, last Tuesday.

Cpt. Orley Perry of the Cadillac state police post said Stevens told him he shot Flake, but "didn't know why; I just did."

Flake, retired Carsonville farmer, was shot in the back of the head and neck three times Stevens first reported he had seen another hunter shoot Flake, but then said he had shot him accidentally.

Cpl. Perry said Stevens admitted the deliberate shooting when confronted today with evidence that Flake had been shot from close range.

The boy, Perry said, admitted he shot Flake in the head from a stump some five feet away and then pumped two more .22 rifle bullets into him as he lay on the ground.

Stevens, a former inmate of the State Vocational School for Boys at Lansing, admitted stealing the rifle from a Cadillac home. He said he had gone squirrel hunting with it when he bumped into Flake in the woods.

Stevens' trial as an adult on a first degree murder charge was approved by juvenile court authorities last week.

NATO Ponders Symmetry Problem

NORFOLK, Va. (P) — Those statesmen planning to admit West Germany as the 15th member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization overlooked one problem.

At NATO headquarters here the flags of the 14 nations fly from 14 poles, imbedded in concrete and arranged seven on each side of the headquarters.

"How will we add the West German flag and keep things symmetrical?" mused a public information officer.

Adm. Jerald Wright didn't bother with details: "As soon as West Germany becomes a member of NATO we will fly the German flag outside our headquarters," he said.

Farm Home Near Iron Mountain Is Leveled By Fire

IRON MOUNTAIN — Only smoldering ashes remained Saturday of the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Steele, at Merriman, as the result of a blaze which members of the family said, was started in a small shed adjoining the home by two children, playing with matches. The structure was leveled by the blaze.

The fire was discovered when the Steele's small daughter, five-year-old Anne Steele, and another child, whose parents were visiting in the neighborhood from Pontiac, Mich., came running into the house, shouting that there was a fire in the shed.

The Iron Mountain fire department was called but the blaze had gained rapid headway through the house, shouting that there was a fire in the shed.

The Iron Mountain fire department was called but the blaze had frame building and was out of control when the firemen arrived. Efforts were being made, shortly before noon, to save two adjoining buildings—one a pump-house.

Mrs. Steele was burned on the arm while attempting to remove some furniture. Only a few items were saved, and all other possessions were destroyed. A small amount of insurance—considerably less than the loss involved—was carried on the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Steele and family will reside with neighbors until they determine their future course.

Council Mulls Pollution Suit

Courses of action which the City of Manistique may take in meeting a suit of the Michigan Water Resources commission to halt water pollution in the Manistique River and Lake Michigan were discussed at a regular City Council meeting Monday night but no action was taken.

The City Attorney, William Hood, advised the Council that he had not received a copy of the bill of complaint from the Commission, and suggested that action be deferred until the complaint is sent to him.

A copy of the bill of complaint was filed in the courthouse here at the same time that chancery summonses giving notice of the suit were served on city officials, but was not included with the summonses.

During the meeting, O. E. Livermore, city manager, was instructed to determine ownership of property near the car ferry dock, where it has been proposed the city sewage plant might be built, and plans drawn earlier showing existing and proposed sewer lines were studied.

A possible plan for solution of the sewage problem was advanced by Mayor A. W. Heitman, but discussion Monday night centered primarily on the more immediate court suit. Heitman suggested that the city might be able to build a sewage plant through a bond issue and then, over a period of years, make necessary repairs and new construction on sewer lines in the city.

Rehabilitation of sewer lines and construction of necessary intercepting sewers would be a large part of the total cost of solving the sewage disposal problem, it was pointed out.

In other business Monday night, the city manager reported that installation of automatic controls for low lift pump on the new water pumping station was completed Monday, and that work on controls for high lift pump would be started Tuesday. Francis Engineering company, he said, is scheduled to report this week on other pumps needed here.

Two Are Fined For Reckless Driving Here

Two motorists were arraigned in Justice Court Monday on charges of reckless driving and entered pleas of guilty.

They were Herbert Peterson, 623 N. 4th St., Marquette, and George Ryerse, 19, Marquette Ave., Manistique.

Peterson was assessed fine of $100 and court costs of $4; and Ryerse was levied $30 fine and costs of $2, with an alternative of five days in jail.

The Marquette man was arrested by Manistique State Police Oct. 29 on a charge of driving under influence of liquor and Ryerse was arrested Monday morning by city police here.

Also in court Monday was Richard E. Russell, 19, Marquette Ave., who was fined $8 and levied costs of $2 for disorderly conduct. He was an occupant in the car driven by Ryerse.

Jack Smith and Pat LaFleur of Augusta were callers at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Nile Byers Friday.

Mrs. Lawrence Aldrich Jr., has been confined to her home this week with the "flu."

A car owned and driven by Gene Hyland crashed into the rear of another car that stopped suddenly in Lover's Lane Sunday afternoon. The front end of the Hyland car was damaged.

Ben Marx of Arlington Heights, Ill., who has been spending several weeks at his cabin in Hiawatha, was a dinner guest at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Byers Saturday. He expects to return to his home this week.

Speaker Urges Vital Approach To Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving time is a time for more than just a prayer—it is a time for action, the Rev. Alan S. Miller, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of the Redeemer, stressed in a speech Monday noon before the Manistique Rotary club.

Rev. Miller, who was introduced by Fred Hahne, urged listeners to give thanks to those entitled to it, and to be especially thankful for the American Way, justice, the nation's leaders, and the good accomplished by social institutions in the world.

Noting that the United States is often referred to as "the bread basket of the World," he emphasized that residents of this nation should probably be more thankful than in any other country. He urged the active giving of thanks to the world at large, rather than in the community or nation.

Rotarians concluded their meeting Monday with recitation of the revised pledge to the American flag, which includes the words "under God," since a recent Congressional enactment.

With The Deer Hunters

Gerard Gauthier, Frank Gonzales, Harold Harrison and Henry Cool have returned to their homes in Inkster after spending a week hunting here. Gauthier, who downed a spikehorn, was the only successful member of the hunting party.

Andrew Knopp, 334 Chippewa, shot a 6-point, 130-pound buck Friday while hunting at Trout Lake.

Mrs. E. D. Branyan, 127 Arbutus Ave., shot a spikehorn buck weighing 90 pounds while hunting near Thunder Lake on the opening day of the season.

Bishops' Clothing Drive Is Underway

St. Francis de Sales parish is cooperating in the annual Thanksgiving Week used-clothing drive, sponsored by American Bishops, Fr. F. M. Scheringer, pastor, reported.

Used clothing for men, women and children will be brought to the basement of the parochial school this week, and on Friday two committees of women will supervise sorting and wrapping.

Serving on the committees are Mesdames George Tiglas, chairman, Alvin Nelson, Victory Schuster, Matt Videtic and Matt Webster, sorting; and Mesdames Jasper Laurion, chairman, Milton Ketick, Dell Bruley, Len Harwick and Art Fountain Sr., wrapping.

The clothing is distributed, irrespective of race, color or creed, to refugees in Korea, and Indo-China, and those in refugee camps in countries near the Iron Curtain and the Bamboo Curtain. Blankets, coats, suits and children's clothing are especially needed.

Four Are Hurt In Auto Crash

Four persons were injured, none seriously, in a two-car accident at 1 p. m., Monday on US-2, a mile east of the Mackinac county line.

The injured, all of whom were taken to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital, were as follows:

Adeline Hazel, 44, of Newberry, head lacerations.

Arthur Northrup, 71, of Ypsilanti, wrenched back.

Ray Lideke, 42, Ann Arbor, bruised right shoulder.

Fred Dieterle, 55, Ypsilanti, bruised right side.

Manistique State police reported a car driven by Dieterle was attempting to pass Mrs. Hazel, who made a left turn. The eastbound vehicles sideswiped and went off the roadway, police said. Damage to the car driven by Dieterle, and owned by Lideke, is estimated at $1500 and to the Hazel car at $400.

In another accident investigated Monday afternoon by state police, Robert W. Lockhart, 22, of Gulliver, was ticketed for failure to stop after he collided with a car driven by Albert Schubring, 59, of Rte. 2, Manistique. The accident occurred at 2:55 p. m., on the inland road near Mueller township.

Police said Lockhart failed to stop, while traveling north, and was hit by the Schubring car, headed west. The Schubring auto had estimated damage of $75 and Lockhart's of $120.

Mary Gilland Is Bride Of F. C. Rochefort

At a ceremony performed at 9 a. m., Saturday in the parsonage of St. Francis de Sales Church, Miss Mary Ellen Gilland, daughter of Mrs. Ellen Gilland, 730 Oak St., became the bride of Francis Charles Rochefort, son of Mrs. Pearl Cousineau, 227 N. 5th St. The Rev. Fr. Szoke officiated at the single ring ceremony.

The bride was attired in a navy blue suit with matching accessories and wore a corsage of white carnations. Miss Shirley Cousineau, sister of the bridegroom, who was maid of honor, wore an aqua suit and yellow carnations, and the bridesmaid, Miss Beverly Gilland, sister of the bride, wore a tan suit with red carnations.

Myron Louis, of Manistique, was best man and Elmer Mercier, of Garden, a cousin of the bridegroom, ushered.

Mrs. Gilland attended her daughter's wedding in a black and white pin-check dress with black flounce trim. Mrs. Cousineau, the bridegroom's mother, was wearing a navy blue dress. Both mothers wore corsages of red carnations.

A reception was held in the evening at the National Guard Armory. The serving table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom and Mrs. Everett Pasino and Mrs. John Benish assisted with the serving.

The newlyweds are making their home at Indian Lake. The bride attended Manistique High School and the bridegroom attended Cooks High School.

Out of town guests attending were Mrs. M. E. Gilland, Beulah; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rochefort, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rochefort and Gene, Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Mercier, Mrs. Vic Humbert and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Mercier and Cheryl of Garden; and Pvt. Arthur Schultz, of Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

City Finance Picture Okay

The City of Manistique has spent $113,722.44 on a 1954-55 budget of $222,360.46 during the first half of the current fiscal year, Manistique City Councilmen were informed Monday night.

The report was prepared at the request of the Council by W. A. Moreau, city treasurer. It also showed that total receipts exceeded expenditures, and Councilmen expressed no dissatisfaction with the financial picture.

In other business at the regular session Monday, the Council instructed the city attorney to study the city's cemetery ordinance, with a view to modernizing the 20-year-old document; and instructed the city clerk to advertise for bids for Christmas turkeys for city employees.

A petition from 23 residents in the 100 block of N. 5th St., for a street light was received and the Council accepted a recommendation of the city manager that it be granted.

Burdette Scores Big Hit At Jaycee Little League Dinner

Pitcher Lou Burdette of the Milwaukee Braves scored a big hit last night with Escanaba Jaycee Little League baseball youngsters and members of the Escanaba Lions Club at the Sherman Hotel.

Approximately 100 heard the Braves' pitcher relate some of his interesting experiences in baseball. Burdette also gave the Little Leaguers some important baseball advice.

"Don't worry if you are a bench-warmer," Burdette told the youngsters. "There are a lot of fellows in the majors today who were unable to make their high school baseball teams or their college teams."

The Milwaukee pitcher said that a berth in major league baseball today was worth every effort an athlete could put out. He discussed the players' pension plan and other modern advantages to ball players.

Stasewich Honored

Team and individual awards were presented to Little Leaguers in conclusion of the program.

Dick Stasewich was a popular choice for the league's sportsmanship and leadership trophy. In his third year in the program, Dick was on the all-star team for the second straight year. He played every position on the field, finished the season with a .378 hitting average and drove in the only run in Escanaba's 1-0 victory over Green Bay Rotary in tournament competition with the only extra base hit of the game.

Top rookie honors for players 10 or under went to Francis Gravelle, Kiwanis infielder and pitcher.

Andrews Top Batter

The leading batter award went to Barry Andrews, 11-year-old slugger who performed as a pitcher, infielder and outfielder. Barry cracked 23 hits in 43 times at the plate for a hefty .532 average. His five homers this season represents more four-baggers than the entire league registered in the two previous seasons.

Little League graduating certificates were presented to Ronald Vardigan, Stasewich, Fred Kelker, Robert Clouse, Joseph Frappier, Robert Karas, Richard Olson, Donald Hansen, Tom Elegent, Ron Eli, Jim Pinar, John Wellman, Jim Peterson, Dick Erickson, Leroy Lancour, Bill LaMarche, Kris Fitzpatrick, Dennis Hogan, Tom Nordin, Michael Quinn and Greenwood.

The league championship trophy was presented by Jack Manning, president of the Escanaba Junior Chamber of Commerce to Kris Fitzpatrick, representing the Lions team.

Birdie Tebbetts was a success in his bow as a major league manager. His Redlegs won 74 games, most Cincinnati has won since 1944 when the team won 89 games.

51,000 Bonus Limit

Other clubs who tabbed him No. 1 included Baltimore, Kansas City, Chicago White Sox and the New York Giants.

Ordinarily, any player drafted from a Triple A club such as Montreal would cost $10,000 but a bonus player brings only the $4,000 limit.

Altogether the majors shelled out $122,500 for minor league hopefuls, including ex-big leaguers Mickey Grasso, Bennett Flowers and Cloyd Boyer.

Grasso To Giants

Grasso, veteran catcher dropped by Cleveland after the World Series, comes back to the Giants, with whom he received his big league baptism in 1946. Flowers, a former Boston Red Sox relief pitcher, was plucked by Detroit from Louisville, where he had an 11-12 record. Boyer, released by the St. Louis Cardinals last year because of a sore arm, was obtained by Kansas City from Rochester.

Kansas City spent $30,000 for three pitchers. Besides Boyer, the club purchased Bon Spicer, who

Bowl-Bound Buckeyes Rate No. 1 In Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rose Bowl-bound Ohio State, only the second team in Big Ten history ever to win seven straight games in that tough circuit, received a thumping vote of confidence today from 250 sports writers and broadcasters participating in the semifinal Associated Press ranking poll.

The experts, who put Ohio's Buckeyes ahead of equally unbeaten UCLA a week ago by the extra-thin margin of seven points, moved them out nearly 100 points ahead of the Uclans today.

Ohio State, with 115 first-place votes, piled up a total of 2,259 points on the usual basis of 10 points for each first-place vote, 9 for second, etc. UCLA gathered 85 firsts and 2,162 points for second place, while Oklahoma's Sooners, holding firmly onto third place, polled 31 firsts and 1,953 points.

Five Top Changes

These three unbeaten teams, with nine victories, remained well in front as five changes were recorded in the top 10. Notre Dame and Army held the fourth and fifth spots, followed by Navy, Mississippi, Wisconsin, Baylor and Maryland, in order.

These switches reflected last Saturday's results, with one exception. Navy, which had been a shade behind Mississippi and tied with Southern California for seventh place, advanced to sixth in a week when both teams were idle. Southern California, thumped 34-0 by UCLA, dropped to 17th place.

Arkansas and Minnesota fell from the last two places in the first 10 to deep in the second as they lost to Louisiana State and Wisconsin, respectively. Wisconsin, 27-0 winner over Minnesota; Baylor, which beat Southern Methodist 33-21, and Maryland, 48-6 winner over George Washington, came up to the vacant spots.

Both Major Leagues Will Expand, Says Executive

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Both major leagues will become 10-club leagues in two or three years with the National expanding west to San Francisco and Los Angeles and the American taking in Toronto and Minneapolis-St. Paul, a prominent baseball executive predicted today.

Although the executive refused to give permission for use of his name, he has a long association with the sport in several different capacities.

The source explained that the National League already had the jump over the American on the Pacific Coast because Phil Wrigley owns the Los Angeles franchise and ball park.

Bob Brumm, writing in the Marquette Mining Journal, takes a sharp rap at new Northern Michigan-Ontario Hockey League president Milton Jaffee, of Hancock. Brumm says Jaffee refused to rehire Dan Crowley because he (Crowley) lives in Marquette, one of five cities in the league. Crowley came from Providence, R. I., last year to referee all games in the Northern Michigan League.

"At the first two league meetings this year," Brumm writes, "Crowley had the approval of all teams except Portage Lake (disapproval voiced by Tony Bukovich, manager) for the 1954-55 season. Oddly enough, Bukovich himself told Crowley at mid-season last year that 'he was doing a good job and calling decisions fair for both sides.' That was when Portage Lake had first place just about clinched and Bukovich probably could not see how his team could lose the Gibson Cup playoffs, which it did, to Escanaba."

"If the Pioneers had won the Gibson Cup," Brumm continues, "Crowley probably would have been rehired as referee, for then Tony would not need an excuse. As it is, Bukovich needs one for his team not defeating Escanaba. Tony was never one to admit he was beaten by a better club. No, the referee, or anyone else who is handy, has to be the fall guy when Tony loses. So, with Milt Jaffee, the league president from Hancock, we wonder if Bukovich merely told Jaffee he didn't want Crowley this year. Thus Dan is out of a job."

The Marquette writer concludes his article with this question: "How much longer is Tony Bukovich going to be permitted to run hockey in the Upper Peninsula?"

Gladstone Rotary Grid Banquet Set For Dec. 9

The annual Gladstone Rotary Club football recognition banquet will be held at the high school gymnasium on Thursday evening, Dec. 9, it was announced today by James T. Jones of the Boys Work Committee.

In addition to honoring the varsity and junior varsity Gladstone grididers, the Rotary Club will award the Upper Peninsula Coach of the Year trophy to Roman Yatchak of Wakefield, recently named the top Peninsula grid coach by the U. P. Sports Writers Association.

Buck Nystrom MSC Captain

EAST LANSING (AP) — Carl (Buck) Nystrom, a tackle from Marquette, was elected captain of Michigan State's 1955 football team Monday night at the squad's annual team dinner.

Johnny Matso, who has played every backfield position but fullback this season, was awarded the governor's "most valuable" award by his teammates. Matso formerly played with Detroit's Pershing High School.

Michigan State's coach Duffy Daugherty was loaded with praise despite his bleak 3-6 season record.

Athletic Director Biggie Munn said, "I have as much confidence in him now as when he started."

Munn had a big hand in Daugherty's appointment.

The State Board of Agriculture, the college's governing body, unanimously approved a resolution congratulating the coaches and football team despite an "unusual season."

Knocked Cold

"When I got to him he was out cold," York said later. "I'm Going's left foot was within a half inch of Johnny's head. I held the horse and then when Johnny's left leg suddenly shot out — I guess it was a reflex action — I grabbed it while a spectator held the horse."

"I was praying silently," said Dr. L. J. Cook, a veterinarian, "that the horse would not kick or thrash about. It was plain that if the horse either kicked or thrashed, he would bash in Longden's skull. John had to be freed before the horse was, even if it meant breaking Longden's legs."

Quiets Horse

Acquired by the Tigers was Bennett Flowers, a 27-year-old right-hander who posted an 11-12 mark with Louisville in the American Assn. last season. He had a 3.57 earned run average, sixth best in the league.

"He's the type of pitcher who can work all day," appraised Detroit General Manager Herold (Muddy) Ruel.

The Tigers lost Jerry Dean, a pitcher who was drafted by Cinseason.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — Because of custom, there will be the usual number of bowl games on New Year's Day, but there promises not to be even one which will decide any sort of championship.

There is a strong possibility that no more than four of the nation's top teams, as voted by the experts, will be seen in action anywhere on Jan. 1. They could be Ohio State in the Rose Bowl, Mississippi and possibly Baylor in the Sugar Bowl, and maybe Maryland in the Orange Bowl.

The Rose Bowl would have one of the great attractions of this or any season but for the rule forbidding unbeaten UCLA to represent the coast conference for the second straight year. The same type of regulation prevents the powerful Oklahoma Sooners of the Big Seven Conference from appearing in the Orange Bowl.

Kansan Cops In Cross Country

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Kansas track coach Bill Easton guided his sixth NCAA cross country winner in 16 meets Monday as Allen Frame stepped into the track boots of cowboy Wes Santee.

Frame loped across the finish line of the four mile course at Michigan State College 35 yards ahead of his nearest contenders in a pack of 115 from 16 colleges. His time was 19:54.2, fourth best winning time in the meet's history. A total of 123 started.

However, Easton's squad finished only fourth. Oklahoma A. & M., unbeaten this year, wasn't pressed at all in taking the team crown with a low of 61 points. Syracuse was second with 118 points. Miami of Ohio took third.

George King of New York University was second; the Aggies' Fred Eckhoff third.

Easton last year coached Wes Santee, the greatest miler the United States has ever known, to victory in the NCAA's cross country. Frame claims he learned his distance running from watching Santee.

Taylor Resigns At Oregon State

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) — Oregon State football coach LaVerne (Kip) Taylor whose team just completed one of the most disastrous seasons in the school's history, submitted his resignation Monday night.

His assistants, Leonard Younce, line coach; Ward Cuff, backfield coach; and Hal Moe, end coach, also announced they were quitting. The resignations, submitted to the school's athletic board, are to take effect July 1.

Taylor's team won its opening game this season against Idaho and then suffered eight consecutive losses. Last Saturday's 33-14 defeat by Oregon was the first time OSC had lost to its traditional rival since 1948.

Taylor, 47, came to Oregon State in 1949 from Michigan State where he was assistant coach. Since then his teams have won 20 games and lost 36.

It'll be the first time since the All-Star game was inaugurated that professional coaches will be used.

Lambeau organized the Green Bay Packers in 1919 and was with the club until he resigned in 1950. He coached the Chicago Cardinals for two years and then moved to the Washington Redskins.

Anderson, one-time Notre Dame guard and later Irish coach, served as line coach with the Bears until 1951.

Ward said "The decision was made by the fans who were invited to send their recommendations for changes, if any, to WGN-TV's sports page program (A Chicago television show). The response was overwhelming in favor of engaging professional coaches."

J. C. Caroline Is Illinois Captain

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Halfback J. C. Caroline, who led Illinois to a share of the Big Ten title in 1953, was elected captain of the 1955 team at the annual football banquet Monday night.

Caroline will become the first Negro to captain an Illinois football team.

Caroline led the nation in rushing last year with 1,256 yards but was held to 440 yards this year. Illinois lost eight of its nine games.

The Illinois named center Jack Chamblin the most valuable player. Chamblin played six complete games and missed only 32 minutes of play all season.

NEW YORK — Boardwalk Smith, 173½, Atlantic City, stopped Archie McBride, 184, Trenton, N.J. 9.

Brooklyn — Wildcat Billy McNeese, 165½, Central Islip, N.Y., outpointed Ted Olla, 162, Mihawaykee, 10.

McBride, who outweighed Smith 184 to 173½ pounds, rated Smith "better than Valdes" who beat him Feb. 20 at Havana.

Select Pros To Coach All-Stars

CHICAGO (AP) — There'll be a new twist to the 1955 College All-Star football game played against the National Football League champions at Soldier Field.

Instead of using college coaches, the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., sponsor of the game, Monday announced professional coaches would be used.

Tribune Sports Editor Arch Ward said Curly Lambeau, veteran pro coach, would head the squad and Hunk Anderson would be the line coach.

It'll be the first time since the All-Star game was inaugurated that professional coaches will be used.

Lambeau organized the Green Bay Packers in 1919 and was with the club until he resigned in 1950. He coached the Chicago Cardinals for two years and then moved to the Washington Redskins.

Anderson, one-time Notre Dame guard and later Irish coach, served as line coach with the Bears until 1951.

Ward said "The decision was made by the fans who were invited to send their recommendations for changes, if any, to WGN-TV's sports page program (A Chicago television show). The response was overwhelming in favor of engaging professional coaches."

J. C. Caroline Is Illinois Captain

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Halfback J. C. Caroline, who led Illinois to a share of the Big Ten title in 1953, was elected captain of the 1955 team at the annual football banquet Monday night.

Caroline will become the first Negro to captain an Illinois football team.

Caroline led the nation in rushing last year with 1,256 yards but was held to 440 yards this year. Illinois lost eight of its nine games.

The Illinois named center Jack Chamblin the most valuable player. Chamblin played six complete games and missed only 32 minutes of play all season.

Spending Upped By Government

WASHINGTON (AP) — A big increase in government spending is cited by the Commerce Department as the "most significant" change in the national economy in the past 25 years—a period which saw the economy double in size.

In a special study made public Sunday night, the department attributed to bigger national security outlays the increase in government spending, which it said accounted for 23½ per cent of the national economy last year, as compared with about 8 per cent in 1929.

Other changes noted included a decline in the farmer's share in the economy, a big rise in that going to manufacturing and a big increase in the proportion of the national income being paid out in wages and salaries.

In 1929 the nation produced 104 billion dollars worth of goods and services, the department said, and by 1953 this had risen to 365 billions. After revision to take account of price changes during the 25-year period, total production rose from a "constant dollar" level of 149 billions in 1929 to 307 billions last year—an increase of about 105 per cent.

Personal income went up from 68 billion dollars in 1929 to 236 billions in 1953, the department said, but since the total tax bill increased by about 12 times in the period, disposable income increased only from $3 billions to 250 billions.

Corrected for price changes, disposable income showed a growth from 113 billion dollars in 1929 to 214 billions last year. On a per capita basis, and again after changes for price fluctuations, disposable income rose from $927 for each person in 1929 to $1,339 in 1953.

School Bus Drivers Get Certificates

STEPHENSON—Thirty bus drivers from eight county townships received certificates for a special study course which was conducted in mid September at the Stephenson and Carney schools, reports Ethel A. Schuyler, county school superintendent.

The study course was sponsored by the Northern Michigan College of Education at Marquette in the Michigan bus driver training program of the State Department of Public Instruction in which several other state educational institutions participated. Instructor for the course was P. O. Wickstrom of Central Michigan College of Education at Mt. Pleasant.

Topics discussed on the program included bus driving skills, the Vehicle Code, rules and regulations of the Department of Public Instruction, driver relations with the parents and pupils, care and upkeep of the bus etc.

The following county school drivers completed the course and received certificates:

Cederville, Peter Bardowski; Daggett, Dwight Buckmaster, Francis Raboin and John Sandahl; Holmes, William Wendick, John Nagy and Joseph Plutchak; Lake, Mrs. Hannah Hayward and Melvin Desjarlais; Mellon, Seigel Haulette, Clarence Nelson and George Leanna; Nadeau, Fred LeBeau, William J. If Father Was Bald Tonics Won't Help, U. Of M. Doctor Says

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—A University of Michigan doctor says if your mother and father are bald and your head is taking on the proportions of a billiard ball, the only answer is a good-looking hat.

Dr. Thomas G. Jansen of the university's Medical School, says he recommends throwing away hair lotions and advises persons not to be misled by advertisements. "Just recognize the inevitable and adjust accordingly," says the skin specialist.

Advising women on home waves and dyes the doctor says:

"If you have noted any skin changes following the use of home waves or dyes, it would be wise not to use them again. Severe reactions could follow continued use."

Goebel...first American beer to win acclaim in Holland

Director of Amstel Brewery, Amsterdam, calls Goebel "one of world's great beers"

Director Hooft van Woudenberg, surrounded by trophies from The Royal Netherlands Hunting Club, enjoying a glass of Goebel Beer in the Amstel taproom.

"Having had the opportunity of sampling Goebel Beer here in Amsterdam, Holland, we are happy to find that it meets the exacting requirements we have demanded in our many years of brewing Amstel Beer (by appointment to H.R.H. Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands).

"It is light and dry with a full-bodied flavor. The distinctive personality of Goebel Beer combines qualities which place it among the world's great beers."

Hendrik Hooft van Woudenberg

Jhr. Hendrik Hooft van Woudenberg
Directeur, Amstel Brewery

When brewers from Holland, Germany, England, Switzerland, and Belgium praise the quality and flavor of Goebel, it must be good. For never before has one brewery praised another—never before has an American beer won recognition in Europe, the traditional home of fine beers.

Enjoy Goebel, today... judge its superb qualities for yourself.
